

Sell with a HouseValues Certified Professional

Your real estate agent is a HouseValues Certified Professional.

What does this mean?

If you choose this agent, it means you'll be working with the only HouseValues Certified Professional in your neighborhood, and one of only a handful nationwide.

What are the benefits of working with a HouseValues Certified Professional?

- HouseValues Certified Professionals have undergone extensive training and education in the latest Internet and technology tools, helping them work more closely with you throughout the sale of your home
- They have an established track record of providing market analyses for homeowners throughout the neighborhood, and are intimately familiar with current market conditions and the right asking price for your home
- HouseValues Certified Professionals are committed to unparalleled customer service & attention
- They use email and the Internet extensively to keep in touch with you before, during and after the sale of your home
- They will be at your side every step of the way, offering extensive insight, information and advice to make your real estate transaction faster & easier